Course of defence:	The student presented her thesis in English language. After presentation the questions of the committee followed. In particular, the student was asked to explain in more detail the methodology she uses with stress on what and how it identifies. While the student presented the theory concerning inflation targeting with care and confidence, and she demonstrated understanding of recent literature, there were significant gaps in her methodological approach towards the topic. Given the performance of the student, the committee decided on the final grade.
