

Reimbursement of costs in trial proceedings and enforcement proceedings

Abstract

This thesis reimbursement of costs in trial proceedings and enforcement proceedings describes and evaluates selected concepts concerning the reimbursement of costs in trial proceedings and enforcement proceedings. The primary goal is to describe essence of reimbursement of costs and to answer this common question: "Who shall pay it in the end?". Thesis is divided into four parts.

The thesis starts with introduction where author sets goals of the thesis and methods of scientific work to compile and process assigned subject.

In the first part author briefly defines terms trial proceedings and enforcement proceedings in order to clarify subject of the thesis. Furthermore there is briefly defined distinction between reimbursement of costs and payment of costs.

The second part of the thesis is concerned with reimbursement of costs in trial and adversarial proceedings. This part is the most extensive and most evaluated. It consists of description of reimbursement of costs and types of costs. There is also dedicated part to decisions and remedies concerning the reimbursement of costs.

Third part is concerned with reimbursement of costs in trial and non-adversarial proceedings. Third part is divided into three chapters according to the system of reimbursement of costs in act about special court proceedings. Author briefly describes types of costs and basic institutes of reimbursement of costs. The most extensive chapter is dedicated to estate proceedings.

Fourth and last part is concerned with reimbursement of costs in enforcement proceedings. Fourth part is divided into five chapters: enforcement proceedings on the basis of code of civil proceedings, enforcement proceedings on the basis of enforcement code, enforcement proceedings on the basis of act of special court proceedings, enforcement proceedings on the basis of administrative code and enforcement proceedings on the basis of tax code. Author briefly describes types of costs and basic principles of reimbursement of costs.

Work is ended with conclusion where author summarize basic institutes of reimbursement of costs and author's evaluation of the system.