

Abstract (in English):

This bachelor thesis deals with evaluation of zootherapy by the client of the center of educational care. The work includes a description of therapy (with the help of animals) which takes place in the educational centres in the Czech Republic. This thesis deals with the process of therapy itself, outlines the work with a problematic groups of young people and last but not least, it deals with the perception and experience of a client during therapy. Moreover, there is quantitative research which was conducted in the form of a survey.