

Abstract

The following text deals with the usage of the social media Facebook by high school students. The theoretical part contains basic information connected to the media and Facebook, high schools with the emphasis on Waldorf schools and the overview of the adolescence. The practical part of the thesis contains analyses of two Facebook profiles complemented by surveys. The object of the analysis is a high school student and a student of Waldorf high school.