

Abstract

The aim of this bachelor's thesis is the annotated translation of a part of the French book Les secrets de famille by Serge Tisseron. The thesis is divided into two parts – practical that consists of the translation of the text and theoretical that contains the translation commentary including the translation analysis of the original text, analysis of the translation problems and their solutions and the typology of translation procedures and shifts.