

The task of the work is the implementation of application for tests administration. The application provides creating templates with questions for tests generation and provides set of tests administration. The system enables to print tests on papier and is able to evaluate tests automatically from scanned images. The programme supports internet tests generation and administration.