

TITLE: Comparison of the Czech-Russian vocabulary on the topic fauna

AUTHOR: Andrea Holečková

DEPARTMENT: Department of Russian studies and linguistic didactics

SUPERVISOR: PhDr. Jakub Konečný, Ph.D.

ABSTRACT:

The thesis concerns with fauna vocabulary in the Czech-Russian comparative plan. The theoretical part of the thesis defines lexicology as a discipline that deals with lexis. Process of word-formation and enrichment of lexis in both languages is described and the most frequent methods of enrichment of lexis in both languages are emphasized. Methodology of the thesis contains characterization of fundamental criteria and excerpted material is classified via them. The practical part analyses linguistic material that was acquired via the excerpt of lexemes of fauna from the didactic files Raduga po-novomu, Klass!, Vremena and Ruština – maturitní příprava. Thematic Czech-Russian dictionary of fauna with commentaries on grammatical particularity of individual lexemes serves as an output.

KEYWORDS:

lexicology, etymology, vocabulary, fauna, dictionary