

Abstract

In this work I will try to focus on the creation and development of football culture on Prague's Letná plain. The aim will be to capture the origin and establishment of the first football clubs, their influence and activity from the second half of the 19th century to 1950s. The primary theme will be examining this period as one of the peaks of Czechoslovak sport culture.