

The task of the bachelor work is to give a proposal and its implementation of a transaction processing application for teaching purpose. The program enables parallel transaction processing simulation, it works with a simple database in the memory. Transaction processing is scheduled automatically or by user. The processing provides single step operation, this means the user is also able to see actual states of the database. It supports serializability tests, lock protocols and deadlock precaution.