

Summary

Interaction of Public Opinion Together with Women's Representation in Positions of Power by the Help of Non- Government Organizations and the Czech Republic Government

In my thesis I survey an institutional and legislative provision of women's backing in Czech political scene. First I map over the Czech Republic government and as second I analyze the activities of non - government organizations working in the field of assistance to Czech women politicians. I detect characters of cooperation and displacement from the non - government organizations' side. Pursuant to researches I show the work of both sides as essential.

This thesis analyze activities of concrete non- government organizations as well. It specialize in organizations that are ones of the most active props for positive look in women in regional and top politic. That is followed by evaluating results, which were made in particular researches in last few years. Subunits are descriptions of actual state of affairs and institutional provision in case of equal opportunity problematic.

The applied part is paid to analysis of my own researches, that was made with 176 informants and where I ,with help of opened and closed questions interviews, tried to disclose bearings of Czech community to the participation of Czech women in politic and to work of helping non- government organizations. The following part overhauls results of another research, where were more than twenty women's politicians asked about their opinion of non- government organizations activities. It was also discussed if they are concerned in those activities as well. In conclusion I addict to schemes and close views in future.
