

ABSTRACT

The attitudes and experiences of the university students with drugs of abuse

The aim of the thesis was to find out the rate of drug abuse and drug experiences among university students. Statistical data were obtained by questionnaire method processed and graphically presented. In the conclusion are the results of this thesis compared with the results of five Prague universities study.