

ABSTRACT

The thesis maps and compares the success of solving the game activities of the players of the Czech women's national football team. It is a diagnostic of eight games played in the qualifications for the 2019 World Championship. The thesis investigates the success of the selected gaming activities of the Czech team as a whole, and in these activities it compares the success of defensive players, midfielders and offensive players.