

ABSTRACT

The aim of this thesis is to find out the level of physical abilities of girls and boys of sports and non-sport class in the 6th year of the Chodovická Elementary School, their matching and comparison. We will examine the level of physical abilities of individuals in selected disciplines. The results will be compared between pupils of the same and opposite sex and with standardized norms of physical tests for the common population.

Key words:

Physical ability, comparison, a girl, a boy, sports class, elementary school, older school age, motor skills