

Abstract

The aim of this bachelor thesis is to describe the specifications of the education at the elementary school at the children's sanatorium in Luhačovice and then compare it with the form of education at the common elementary school. It is a theoretical-empirical work. The theoretical part describes the school at the children's sanatorium, its characteristics, history and daily program. Another part of the thesis focuses on a specific workplace, it is the elementary school at the children's sanatorium in Luhačovice. In the practical part was used the method of observation of teaching at this school in comparison with teaching at the common elementary school in Luhačovice. The questionnaire survey was conducted for pedagogues working at the elementary school at the children's sanatorium in Luhačovice. The aim of this work is to show the role of the pedagogue in the complex care of a hospitalized child who should never be underestimated by anyone.

Keywords

education, child with special educational needs, school at the children's sanatorium, elementary school, pedagogue competence