

Abstract

Title: Rescue interventions in winter and on ice.

Objectives: The aim is to describe the work of rescuers during rescue operations on frozen water, to describe the process of freezing watercourses and water areas and to further specify work in these conditions.

Methods: The methods used to obtain required information about the rescue on frozen water were literature research, study sources research and further summarization.

Results: Description of items necessary for rescue work on ice, description of the freezing process, description of rescue work on ice.

Key words: rescue, intervention, winter, ice, IRS