

Annotation

The goal of bachelor's thesis deals with the spiritual needs of the patients in hospital and it refers to an importance of human spirituality at the time of being ill. In the thesis there are given details of spiritual needs which occurs by the patients who report for any religion or by the patients with no religious affiliation. A quantitative observational study was carried out by the patients during their stay at the Surgical Wards and a General Medicine Department of the church hospital.