Abstract (in English):

This Master’s work attempts to analyze the selected documents of dominion’s administration, which were being published by the office workers of the dominion’s management during the period from the end of the 16th to the half of the 17th century, and through the method of comparison it tries to find out the official form of the manor’s leading methods and the communication between the owner of domain and his subordinate inhabitants.