Bachelor's work deals with the application of nursing process in two types of health institutions. It balances the distance against a method of implementing putting nursing process into practice. It tries to find facilitating factors and factors which make difficulty for the application of nursing process. Also it compares the personnel's preparedness for introduction of nursing process .

The inquiry has been provided with nonstandard's questionnaire method. The surveyed sample are nurses near sick-bed, ward nurses, senior nursing officer from surgery, internal medicine and anaesthetic-resuscitation ward and deputy of nursing care.
