

Abstract

The aim of this bachelor thesis is to introduce selected risk behavior of clients from a youth detention center with focus on managing an aggressive behavior. The thesis is divided into two parts, the first part summarizes selected risk behavior related to clients of school facilities for institutional and protective education. These include substance abuse, criminal behavior, bullying and, last but not least, aggressive behavior with possibilities of managing strategies, which is in a separate chapter. The second part is devoted to the design of a research project that is focused on managing aggressive behavior of clients of the Youth Detention Center in Hostinné.
