

Abstract (in English):

This bachelor thesis deals with problems of perception of North Korean defectors through South Korean television talk show Ije mannarõ kamnida. The situation of North Korean refugees in Korean republic is briefly introduced. I also present the TV program Ije mannarõ kamnida.

Furthermore, a text analysis of Internet news articles dealing with this program and its influence on South Korean society is performed. Subsequently, another textual analysis is carried out, namely the analysis of contributions from South Korean blogs and comments related to the program.

The analyzed texts are compared and results of the analysis are also compared.
