

Annotation

Bachelor work treats of breast feeding problems. Theoretic part points at indispensableness of breast milk, at advantages of breast feeding for mother, at right technique of breast feeding and at problems which can mother meet with during lactation period. It also inform us about factors, which countenances breast feeding and about right life style of breast feeding mother. Investigative part of work is rated on running of breast feeding from the mothers view and on influence of breast feeding on child development in first year of life, namely in areas of physical and psychomotor development, morbidity and presence of allergies. Investigated sample is formed by 2 groups of mothers with children which were breast feeded various time.