

8 Appendix

The appendix contains all examples from the Spoken BNC2014 representing the construction help + (NP) + bare infinitive and help + (NP) + to-infinitive. The division of the examples into four groups corresponds to the four analysed constructions. The examples are ordered according to their order in the corpus (as they were found under the individual queries). If one utterance contains more than one example of one of the help-constructions, the examples are considered individual instances. If the example is mentioned in the analysis, the number assigned to the example in the analysis also appears in the appendix (in brackets) to enable an easy retrieval, e.g. S7GW 4 (1).

The appendix includes the examples in which the verb complementing help lacks its obligatory complement that is either not expressed at all or is not expressed within the same utterance as the verb. All four-line and longer examples, and some three-line ones, were shortened. The extent of shortening depends on the importance of the context. The shortening of the utterance is indicated by the use of ellipsis (...).
