

ANNOTATION

The aim of the bachelor thesis is comparison of position of women in Ancient civilizations, especially in Greek, Rome and Egypt. It follows the period from the beginning of the Hellenism until the unification of mentioned civilizations under the administration of the Imperium Romanum. It focuses on a social and intimate women's life, their social role during their life and which rights and obligations did they have. Thereafter these aspects are compared in the thesis.