

ABSTRACT

The bachelor thesis focuses on the definition of the concept of art series and its successful and unsuccessful strategies, which can be encountered in their planning.

In the theoretical part I utilize theoretic and professional knowledge of the art series and their categories. I will also focus on the development of children's drawing in preschool age and on art activities in kindergarten.

In the practical part I will propound my own art series, which will arise the subject of my empirical sound. The research will be comprised of a reflection of the art series and the self-reflection of my own previous art series planning.
