

Abstract

This bachelor's thesis is divided into two sections. The literary re-view section focuses on described theories of alcohol consumption. More importantly it summarizes the results of significant studies focused on risky behaviour during alcohol intoxication. Research pro-posal deal with the correlation between risky behaviour, such as aggression, risky sexual behaviour, drunk driving and gambling, and alcohol consumption among college students.