

The diploma work deals with application of alternative teaching methods for education of skilled subjects at nursing school. The goal of theoretical part is to bring together new knowledge about the new movemens of teaching to show how to make the best of alternative teaching methods while teaching skilled teaching at nursing schools. Research study done in the framework of empirical part sets a goal of finding out how the profesional teachers are inform about possibilities to make the best of alternative teaching methods for teaching of skilled subjects to use of alternative methods in teaching, chart out opinions from skilled teachers of alternative methods in teaching and find out ways to investigate information about the new trends at teaching.