

Abstract

Title: The issue of flash floods

Objectives: The aim of this bachelor thesis is to describe the issue of flash floods caused by intensive rainstorms in Czech republic. Next aim of this bachelor thesis is to summarize the significant examples of flash floods in Czech republic.

Methods: The bachelor thesis uses the method of analysis and research of available study sources and descriptive analytical method is used.

Results: The results of the bachelor thesis are description of flash flood issue and the overview of history of flash floods in Czech republic.

Keywords: extraordinary event, rainfall, natural disaster