

This thesis is intended for teachers and students of high schools and universities. It consists collection of solved problems from plane analytical geometry including various solutions and their comparison. The thesis aims to increase the student knowledge of the topic and to provide different approaches to problems and working materials for lessons for teachers. Pictures for better understanding are added for more difficult problems. The practical part focusing on common mistakes and their elimination is included.