

Abstract (in English)

Botanical Garden in Smíchov formed one of the foundations for the study of medicine, chemistry, and other natural sciences in our territory from the second half of the 18th century to the late 20th century.

The aim of the study is to demonstrate the possibilities of using archival sources not only for the study of the history of botany, but also for finding and locating objects of the garden on historic maps and plans. The work also combines multiple disciplines and also offers new knowledge about the history of botany, postal and architecture.
