

Abstract

This bachelor's thesis consists of two main parts - the first, translation of one chapter from the book Beauté & Bien-être à l'Orientale, and the second, commentary on the translation. The commentary covers analyses of the original text, translation procedures, and typology of translation problems. It also includes explanations for the solutions used.