

TITLE:

Freya organisation

AUTHOR:

Rosolová Tereza

DEPARTMENT:

Department of Special Pedagogy

SUPERVISOR:

PhDr. Monika Mužáková, PhD.

ABSTRACT:

This thesis is discussing the topic of sexuality of disadvantaged individuals and relevant sexual assistance. Primarily it focuses on examining the Freya organisation, which provides education, consultations and other supporting services in the field of sexuality of disadvantaged and older individuals.

The first part of the theoretical part focuses on sexuality, sexuality of disabled individuals and the terminology and the origin of sexual assistance in the Czech Republic and other countries. Also compares sexual assistance systems in selected European countries.

The second chapter is examining the Freya organisation. In particular characteristics, history, goals, principles and specific services.

In particular its characteristics, in depth history, which is supported by comparisons of sexual assistance systems in other selected European countries, their goals, principles and services. The practical part will be delivered by structured interview with the use of qualitative research.

The goal of practical part was to examine differences or likeness in the sexual assistance services in Freya organisation from the first beginnings and today from the point of view of respondents with various relations to Freya organisation.

The goal of this thesis is introduction in the area of sexuality, sexuality of disabled individuals. Thorough familiarization with Freya organisation as well. The goal of practical part is examining differences or likeness in the sexual assistance services in Freya organisation from the beginnings and today and raising awareness around the topic of sexual assistance which still remains tabu in society today.

KEYWORDS:

Freya establishment, sexuality, disabilities, sexuality of people with disabilities, sexual assistance