

Knowledge of the national history and geography places where we live belong the important education sphere particularly called "Man and his World." The aim of my thesis was the proposition suitable methods and showing them in the project related Nová Říše national history and geography knowledge. The methods I studied in class four - at ten years old pupils. I suppose the results of my theses will be able to be the base for drawing up strategies the basic school in this sphere. I think the project will influence young pupils and stir up their feelings of the existence in relation to the surrounding environment - to its nature, culture and society.
