

The subject matter of the thesis is II. Jerusalem temple – history, description and eschatology. The main purpose was to depict the historical background and the development of the temple in Jerusalem, introduce the temple service and its importance for the contemporary Jewish society, and above all the importance of the temple existence as well as the future which is full of great expectations – the belief in the coming messiah, which will result in bringing the world to the remedy and peace.