Title: Holt-Winters method with missing observations and its actuarial application

Author: Jiří Gregor

Department: Department of Probability and Mathematical Statistics

Supervisor: prof. RNDr. Tomáš Cipra, DrSc.

Supervisor's department: Department of Probability and Mathematical Statistics

Abstract: This thesis describes problematics of time series and its seasonal component. It shows different approaches to smoothing and prediction of time series. The main part of thesis is devoted to Holt-Winters method with missing observations and its actuarial application.

Keywords: Time serie, smoothing, Holt-Winters method with missing observations