

Main theme of this thesis are diophantine equations and diophantine sets. In the first chapter we also briefly introduce recursive sets and recursive enumerable sets and show how they are connected with diophantine sets. Whole second chapter is devoted to constructive proof that prime numbers are diophantine and also stating a polynomial which set of positives values is identical to the set of prime numbers.