

Abstract

The topic of this thesis is the Czech Environmental Inspectorate. It deals with not only the subject, but also the environment in general, protection tools and administrative supervision in general. In the area of inspection is dedicated to its organizational structure, position in the system of state organs of Czech Republic in the area of water protection, its powers, including the protection of the every components (water, air, waste management, nature and landscape and other areas). It also deals with powers of inspection, which focuses mainly on the implementation of controls, but also for providing information. The last section is devoted to an area that has an international dimension, and that the issue of IMPEL and CITES.