

Abstract:

My bachelor's thesis aims to identify and compare the interventions and methods of social workers in youth services after leaving the children's home after reaching adulthood. The results of this bachelor thesis can be useful for social workers who want to work with this target group, or want to get an overview of services for young people after leaving the children's home after reaching adulthood. The bachelor thesis can serve as an outline of interventions and methods of social workers who work with this target group. It can also provide insight into the issue of young adults leaving the children's home for the general public.

Key words:

social worker, institutional care, social work, social services, substitute family care, subsequent independent life