

This master's thesis deals with the incorporation of spiritual dimension of man into the social work with homeless people and into social work in general.