

This paper analyzes portuguese economy after 1974 and the convergency to the european core. It reviews the reforms applied in Portugal during the period 1974-90, which had to stabilize economic situation in country after Salazar-Caetano regime and transform the system into the market driven system.