

This dissertation is about life's work of E.E.Kisch, that was the big personality of the world journalism. This work is about his typical personal characteristic which help him to become one of the cosmopolitan and the greatest reporter and the fighter against the fascism and injustice in the world of the 20. century.