

The primary prevention system of socially-pathological events in Czech education system is already made and well-established in Czech legislature. It is supported with activity of individual educational facilities by preventative methodists and coordinated by both MSMT and individual subjects through prevention coordinators. Its purpose in general is achieving particular objectives performed by formally organized groups of people. So its success depends very much on each school management's efficiency and how much systematic personal interest of their schoolmaster is.

The author of this work makes a survey of schoolmaster's work in prevention of socially -pathological events field and applies it on particular manager activities in key processes. She also show a kind of manual how to deal with this difficult task as well as it contains appropriate amount of information about legislature and some important documents, both related to manager activities.

Sociological survey based on a questionnaire shows us how do socially-pathological events affect the phenomenom of vocational school student premature dropping as well as it contains the opinions and actions of involved educational facilities - secondary schools - related to the system of socially-pathological events, how do these schools work with the system further and what can or should be changed, and how, via means of the state, the founder and the school management.
