

Abstract:

The thesis is a historical character, therefore it is based on the study of primary sources, i.e., school chronicles and other similar documents, in order to clarify the development of primary school in Výprachtice (Lanškroun district).

The methods used will be methods of historical research including methods of oral history.

In order to understand the context in which school development takes place, it is necessary to pay attention to:

- a) geographical and economic development of the region
- b) history of primary school legislation
- c) the development of education in the region (in Lanškroun)
- d) the history of the school in Výprachtice

Key words:

primary documents (chronicles, school documents, etc.), historical development, school development, school legislation, school region