

The topic of my bachelor project is Psychotherapy in the Competency of General Nurses At the beginning of my work the terms, general nurse, competency are explicated, furthermore the terms are concerned with patient's feeling. The work is divided into two parts: Theoretical and practical one. Psychotherapy is described in the theoretical part, both general and specific psychotherapeutic parts are available for nurses and the work with patients. In my work there is communication, such as supporting psychotherapy, its communication, however we can influence the patient positively and sometimes inverse. The practical part is processed by a kind of research. The method of the research was chosen by enquiry. Two groups of respondents answered to enquiry: The general nurses and patients. The outcome of the work is a paperback which could be explained effectively and usefully about mental site of the patient. The paperback consists of practical instruction and technique used in nursing care. This paperback is determined for nurses, for use in departments for adults.
