

Annotation

The Bachelor's Thesis deals the breast-feeding in term of difficulties, that can be found by mothers during a period of lactation. The Theoretical Part is discussing importance of the breast-feeding for a child, a mother and society and it includes instructions for the successful breast-feeding. There are especially mentioned the most frequent difficulties of the breast-feeding, prevention and finding solution of these difficulties. The consulting servise for the breast-feeding are mentioned, too.

The Research Part is discussing the breast-feeding difficulties, that appear during first six month of child age. There are noticing ways of finding solution of breast-feeding problems, duration of the breast-feeding, reasons to stop the breast-feeding and specific factors, that influence beginning of breast-feeding difficulties. Surveyed sample contains breast-feeding mothers and their six-months-old children.