The topic of my final project is “The preparation for accreditation with the intention on the safety at work and the occupational hygiene and the future medical personnel level knowledge in this section“. This is a theoretical and research project.

In my theoretical part I have described the accreditation as a process, which is necessary for quality patient care. I have focused on the changes which our hospital goes through during the preparation of the accreditation process including the claims on safety at work and occupational hygiene.

Research part has focused on finding the level of future medical personnel mainly in the safety at work sphere via questionnaire. These students become the part of the medical team during the practical lessons and it is necessary to keep safety work rules and in this way they safe themselves and others. Subsequently, this final project has been concentrated on the concept of the corrective measures during the safety training for students and occupational hygiene.
