

Annotation

This final work deals with the basic conceptions relating with multicultural topics, culture and communication. Moreover it is concerned with the specificities in the field of nursing of the muslim clients / patients and in this connection there is mentioned the conception of Madeleine Leininger.

In the final work there are the information about Islamic religion and culture and especially the information about nursing of the muslim women during pregnancy and childbirth in the Arabian countries.

An integral part of the final work is the quantitative experimental research which is focused on the awareness and experience in the field of nursing of the muslim lady clients / patients. The surveyed sample is created by the midwives from selected hospitals in the Czech Republic.