

Annotation

Baccalaureate work treat of informedness of pregnant women in the area alternative medicine, about usage alternative methods in the first stage of the delivery and about possibilities options at own delivery. Point on benefits each of the methods, but at the same time also on possibility rise complication.

Principle of this work forms quantitative research, that is of above all bent on inquest informedness and interest pregnant women about alternative method. Further also investigate with, whether are these women knowledgeable, that the they may at alternative lead of delivery originate sudden complication expectant instantaneous solving and imperilling life child and own woman in childbed. Surveyed sample forms pregnant women registered at six gynaecological ambulance of the Tábor district.