

Annotation

Bachelor thesis deals with historical development of education in childbirth assistance in ancient Egypt, Europe and Hradec Králové. It refers to brief development from ancient times up to the present in the profession of midwives or nurses. Emphasis is put on education of midwives in ancient Egypt and Hradec Králové.

The focal of thesis is qualitative exploratory investigation in women who were engaged in obstetrics nursing practically. Changes and improvements in this branch. The surveyed sample is made up of nursing staff-midwives and nurses working in this profession in the Czech Republic.