This bachelor paper deals with actual subject matter HIV/AIDS and sexual behaviour. It focuses on HIV/AIDS basic info, such as brief history of these ailments, virus transmission, disease process and the treatment. It also mentions the prevention of HIV transmission and numbers of HIV reactors abroad as well as within the Czech Republic. It makes references to the role of nursing in prevention and education, to sexual behaviour, its development and risk behaviour in the sexual sphere.

The experimental part of this bachelor paper is created by interrogatory of youth.

The pupils of elementary school, students of Nursing College and Grammar School were involved in the investigated sample. The research work gathers knowledge of informants in the sphere of HIV/AIDS, their experience and opinions of these topics. The research results were partially compared with results of research performed in 2005 in the frame of bachelor paper themed „Sexually transmissible diseases and the prevention of their spreading“.
