

Abstract

The dissertation thesis called „Polish catholic Radio Maryja“ deals with phenomenon of the polish radio Maryja. This radio has specific position between the others catholic media. In some cases it is impossible to compare it with any other polish radio stations. For more than 18 years radio Maryja is ruled by charismatic priest - father Tadeusz Rydzyk and it has indispensable impact on the socio-political events in Poland. Around the radio grew hardly controlled, isolated society - conglomerate of various media, institutions, foundations, movements and educational establishments. Members of the conglomerate (up to six millions) have created unique group involvement which is connected not only by common thinking about religious tasks, but also by idea about common causes. The dissertation thesis called „Catholic Radio Maryja“ describes history of the radio and the conglomerate and analyze the content of transmission “Unfinished conversations” by using the qualitative content analysis. It tries to collect - from the radio point of view - positive and negative values which represent “the good” and “the evil” in actual social tasks.
